Janette:

I did and was trying to rope-in our sediment expert, Cliff Whitmus, since he is more familiar with the LDWG plans for the Duwamish. (b) (6)

Let me touch base with Cliff again and see if he has time next week to come down to Seattle to meet with you and I.

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you – (b) (6)
(b) (6) I was preoccupied.

Hi, John. Will you be in your Seattle office in the next week or two? I'd like to meet, just you and I, to brainstorm how we (together) want the process to go for the remainder of the CMS and beyond. Let's figure out the most efficient path for getting this site done, and a timeline. Now that the LDWG superfund design is progressing, we should also talk about the mudflats and coordinating with the LDW folks.

Let me know some days/time that work for you.

Regards,
Janette
